Instructions

1. First prepare a book for dialogic reading using the handouts provided in Step 3. Then find a group of young children with whom to practice using dialogic reading practices.
2. While you are reading to the children, either video tape yourself, or ask a peer or teacher to videotape you. This can be in a classroom you are working in, or with a group of children in a community setting.
3. After the dialogic reading, watch the video of yourself and complete Handout 6.5: Dialogic Reading Observation Form.
4. Next, after completing Handout 6.5 in which you check off which dialogic reading practices you used, give your instructor the completed Handout 6.5, the videotape of you doing the dialogic reading, and Handout 6.7: Read-Aloud Performance Feedback Tool.
5. After your instructor has had a chance to review Handout 6.5, Handout 6.7, and the videotape, schedule a time to meet and discuss your dialogic reading practices.
